

UTILISATION OF GIFTS

In Your presence I wait for Your Word, my Lord! Let it transform my life that Your name may be glorified.

The parables of Jesus are simple, but they convey profound messages. Ten minas were given to each of the ten servants to trade with. Jesus entrusts His followers with the same kind of work. The greatest commission given to us is to preach the Gospel and make disciples (Matthew 28: 19&20). We are supposed to carry out this commission that which is given to us in equal terms. The Gospel is not a treasure to be kept for ourselves but to make it known to others and prepare them for the Kingdom of the King of Kings. Do we realise the significance of the importance and urgency of message of our Saviour who shed His blood to save the lost?

Gift Used: We are gospel entrepreneurs. We have to initiate ways and means to multiply the resource entrusted to us. The same gospel should be used in all the places, in all situations to all the people. This may involve hostile and unfavourable situations. Equipped with the grace of God, we have to accomplish what is assigned to us. The power of the Gospel works and prepares people for Eternity.

Rewards: When the master returns he is anxious to reward his servants. Those who were faithful rewarded profusely. The lazy and irresponsible servant was stripped off all his responsibilities and judged by his own words. He was eliminated from the master's presence. To which category will we fall – ready to be rewarded or eliminated? Let us be faithful and sincere servants of our Master.

Lord, help us to use the gift given to us. Amen.
